THEATRE ROW A PROGRAM OF Building for the Arts NY, Inc.

Nonprofit Building for the Arts expands access to the performing arts by providing creative space, learning opportunities, and hubs for artistic connection.

BFA operates Theatre Row, an Off-Broadway multi-theater complex that serves as an affordable home for performing artist organizations, and a lively, accessible venue for diverse audiences.

Through the American Playwriting Foundation, BFA presents the Relentless Award — the largest annual cash prize in American theater to a playwright in recognition of a new play. Music and the Brain brings a music literacy curriculum, whole-class keyboard instruction, and ongoing professional development to schools in under-resourced communities, empowering students to succeed academically and in life.
